Heir Hunters Unclaimed Estate Questionnaire

If you believe you are an entitled beneficiary to one of the unclaimed estates featured on our show, please endeavour to fill in this questionnaire with as much accurate information as possible. Once the questionnaire has been completed to the best of your knowledge it can be returned to us via the email, fax or postal address detailed at the bottom.

Disclaimer

This questionnaire is provided for informational purposes only. It will help you establish family ties and may help you decide if you have a right to an unclaimed estate. Flame TV will only use the information you provide for the purposes of the programme. We cannot make a claim for you.

When someone dies without leaving a will and there's no known relative to inherit, Her Majesty's Treasury receives the money.

<http://www.bonavacantia.gov.uk> for details of current estates and how you can submit a claim. You can download a relative claim form from <https://www.bonavacantia.gov.uk/output/deceased-relative-claim-form.aspx>

If you think you may be an heir to an estate and want to make a claim, you will need to have the following information to back up your claim: your family tree proving your relationship to the deceased and appropriate family certificates for birth, marriage and death.

The Companies featured in the show: Fraser and Fraser, Census Searches, Elliot & Whitmee, Hoopers, Celtic Research, Heirtrace, Cat Whiteaway and other Heir Hunting companies do not accept unsolicited enquiries directly from the public.

People who are interested in undertaking personal family history research or require the help of a professional may also wish to consider contacting the Association of Genealogists and Researchers in Archives (AGRA) or the Association Of Professional Genealogists (APGN), who are able to advise on family history research and who have a list of recommended researchers. Their website addresses are: www.agra.org.uk and www.apgn.org.
